

SHARE YOUR STORY

Have you received psychiatric treatment in a hospital or residential facility in Connecticut, New York or New Jersey? Would you like to share your experience? Journalist Viola Flowers is working on a story about residential facilities and psychiatric care in these three states, and would love to hear from you. Let this be a space for you to be heard – this story is about you.

If you are interested in sharing your experience, please fill out the form below to get in touch with Viola.
